The Hills Are Alive!

Reflecting a vibrant expression of living Christian faith in partnership with Creation, Templed Hills offers guests in every stage of life a fresh way to connect with God, with their community, and with each other surrounded by the timeless, healing presence of nature.

The Hills Are Alive! campaign gives churches and individuals an opportunity to invest in the future of Templed Hills; it's an invitation to ensure our home for faith formation, spiritual renewal, and leadership development continues to thrive.
